Introduction

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

وَلَقَدْ يَسَّرْنَا الْقُرْآنَ لِلذِّكْرِ فَهَلْ مِنْ مُدَكِّرٍ

And certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind? 54:17.

Hifz ul Qur'an or memorisation of the Qur'an is an aspiration for all Muslims.

The Qur'an may be seen as a metaphor of the journey of the human being over time. Beginning with the foundation of Suratul Fatiha (01) and aspiring to reach the goal of Suratul Ikhlas (112); Unity in belief. After that the two suratayn of Suratul Falaq (113) and Suratun Naas (114) are known as Maudhatayn to prevent diversion.

Q114 is a modular study of the Qur'an beginning with the familiarisation of the names of the suwer of Qur'an in sequence using the Link system.

The Link system of memory is designed to enable one to remember any number of things in sequence.

The process is divided into three stages:

1. Encoding the elements of information into visual images as image information is far easier to memorise than textual information.
2. The memorisation process itself.
3. Remembering the sequence of information.

Mnemonics (pronounced ne-monik) is a memory aid in the form of a word, phrase or story. It is derived from a Greek word 'mnemonikon' – an art of memorisation.

For example, most of us are able to remember the colours of the rainbow by using a mnemonic such as 'Richard of York gave battle in vain'. Here the initial letters of the seven words give us the colours: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. This example demonstrates two elements of memorisation: imagination and association. Thus you create a sentence (imagination) using words starting with the initial letters of the colours (association).

Aristotle wrote, as the first sentence of one of his books, "In order to think we must speculate with images."

The 114 names have been divided into 15 sections to allow easy memorisation.

The first step is to create focus points or 'pegs' for each section on which we can 'hang' the story mnemonics. On the following pages you will find the focus points (sura word mnemonics) and the corresponding story mnemonics. There are some spaces to create your own focus points.

As for wajib sajadat the ayaat are marked in the Qur'an with the word sajda. The 10 ayaat with mustahab sajadat are :
